

Paxy Social Enterprise

Decription

Paxy Social Enterprise works to provide fair employment to female Venezuelan artisans and artists through the commercialisation of their high-quality jewellery. We practice fair trade and promote peace education with our suppliers. In Australia, we commercialise our beautiful jewellery with the vision of slow fashion. Paxy provides high-quality products and incentivises our customers to understand why it's important to have products that last for a long time, know who the makers are, and the story and culture behind every item. At the same time, Paxy offers help for entrepreneurs. We have a partnership with Junior Achievement Australia to mentor and facilitate entrepreneurial workshops to youth. Our events every term promote brands for purpose and educate on peace and sustainability. And Paxy is about to publish a book related to the SDGs and entrepreneurship for kids above 10-year-old. We give back to Venezuela through our partnership with the Impact Hub Caracas. We support the Technovation program, which allows girls from low-income communities to have access to technology and entrepreneurial education to prevent early pregnancy. Our mission is to educate on peace and sustainable development in Australia and Venezuela. We believe we are contributing to the SDGs 1,4,5, 16, and 17, so we became a member of the United Nations Association of Australia to embrace our mission. Lastly, our name Paxy comes from the word peace in Latin: PAX. We promote peace conversations in each interaction we have, we want peace to be a daily practice, a lifestyle.
